

A pest management professional like Dr. Jack's should inspect your home for evidence of termites, such as wood damage and mud tubes. We are trained and experienced in knowing what termite damage and activity looks like and can determine if you have termites damaging your home. There are other causes for wood damage and other insects that are similar to termites so it is important to have someone trained and experienced with termites to do your inspection. Also, be sure to speak up if you've seen swarming (flying) insects or discarded wings near doors and windows.
